Two Arkansas Congressmen Get Opposition

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two of Arkansas' congressmen drew Democratic opposition and one faced a November challenge after a flurry of filings Tuesday.

Only Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of Kensett, was without Democratic or Republican opposition.

Mrs. Florence Kathryn Clay, 40, of Forrest City, filed as a Democratic opponent of Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., of West Memphis.

Their 1st district race will be in 10 Mississippi Delta counties.

Mrs. Clay, the first Negro candidate for a major office in the deep delta since Reconstruction, paid her $750 filing fee and filed her corrupt practices pledges in the secretary of state's office.

"Negroes in Arkansas have very little, if any, representation in Congress," she said. "My chief interest in seeking this office is to give the Negroes of Arkansas full representation in the nation's capital."

Mrs. Clay was reared in Clay County near Wynne. She moved to Forrest City in 1949, where she and her husband operated the Clay Funeral Home until his death in 1957.

She is president of the Forrest City Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., of El Dorado, drew Democratic opposition in Dean Murphy, who operates a truck stop in Hempstead County.

Murphy, 44, declared in a newspaper ad last year that he would run against Harris unless the congressman represented "all the people instead of just a few influential friends."

Harris, a congressman since 1939, represents the 28 - county 4th District, which covers all of South Arkansas.

Rep. J. W. Trimble, D-Ark., of Berryville, will have a Republican opponent in the November general election.

J. E. (Jerry) Hinshaw, 47, of Springdale, filed for Trimble's 3rd District post on the Republican ticket. Hal Cochran of Fort Smith filed last week as a GOP candidate for the position.

Feels It Is About Time to Have a Be Kind to Fat People Day in America

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Isn't it about time we had a Be Kind to Fat People Day in this country?

Early next month Americans will celebrate the golden anniversary of national Be Kind to Animals Week.

Animals have done much to lighten and brighten and entertain the human journey. But so have fat people.

Yet one group is appreciated and the other group is not.

Laws protect animals. No legislation exists to protect fat people. You can tease, abuse and torment fat people mercilessly, and a policeman will simply look the other way—or join in the laughter.

This is because animals have better public relations. They have a powerful lobby working for them in Washington. The fat man has no such lobby.

Amateur psychologists tell the fat man his avoirdupois is a sign of emotional insecurity. Pretty girls pat his tummy, but prefer to marry some reed-shaped male oaf because he is more agile on a dance floor, or fits better into a tiny sports car.

Corporations hesitate to give the fat man executive promotion because he is held to be a poor health risk. Under this theory Benjamin Franklin, a man who never counted his calories but

Over 30 Republicans File for Posts, Two for Major Offices

Faubus Gets Another Last Minute Foe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A fourth political unknown filed to oppose Gov. Orval E. Faubus in the Democratic primary today just two minutes before the ticket closed.

Winthrop Rockefeller, as expected, escaped opposition in the GOP primary.

R. D. Burrow, a 54-year-old retail merchant of Walnut Ridge paid his $1,500 filing fee to Democratic party secretary Leon Catlett as a crowd of about 750 surged around him in the Hall of Fame room at the Marion Hotel.

The noon filing deadline caught another would-be candidate, Charles F. Howell, 31, an office machines company executive from Little Rock.

Catlett said Howell attempted to file too late. He arrived at the filing table 30 seconds before the deadline and the clock reached noon before he could get his pledges signed.

Unless one of the four unknown Democrats pulls a political miracle, Faubus and Rockefeller will meet in the November general election.

Faubus' primary opposition is Odell Dorsey of North Little Rock, E. T. Ridgeway of Newport and Joe Hubbard of Russellville.

Dorsey is an electrical contractor, Ridgeway a mobile home salesman and ex-convict, and Hubbard an ROTC instructor at Arkansas Tech College.

The Faubus-Rockefeller campaign already has started, unofficially, although Rockefeller has said he won't discuss the issues until after the Democratic primary.

The governor said Rockefeller is paying candidates to run against Faubus.

Dorsey, who announced two years ago as a candidate for governor but withdrew before filing, owns electrical contracting and insurance businesses.

He was not ready for a campaign in 1962, he said, but now he is. He would not discuss possible campaign issues, but he said voters need more information about how the state is run.

Dorsey lives on a farm eight miles north of Sheridan — the same farm to which Sid McMath retired when he left the governor's office in 1953.

Like Ridgeway and Hubbard, Dorsey is a newcomer to state level politics.

Faubus was certain that some political veterans would file against him. He wrote the

Mrs. Johnson Likes Women Doing Things

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson likes to meet women who are doing things. That's what her "women-doer" luncheons are all about.

Tuesday, 17 women were invited to the fourth of these luncheons which now are becoming the subject of White House fan mail and growing interest.

At first, the guest lists were compiled from people Mrs. Johnson knew or had heard about. Now, they have grown to include many persons suggested by letter writers.

White House social secretary Bess Abell has a file of 150 suggested names. Mrs. Johnson likes to keep a balance so that not all are from the same walks of life or geographical area.

The cross-section of women-doers Tuesday included singer Marian Anderson, ballerina Maria Tallchief, Kentucky Commissioner of Commerce Katherine Peden and authoress Katharine Anne Porter.

The spotlight speaker was Kate Tuchman, principal of P.S.184 in a crowded Harlem district of New York City, who discussed the educational problems she encounters daily.

Storms Rumble in Some Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More thunderstorms rumbled across areas in the Southeast and from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Coast today after another outbreak of violent weather in parts of the South and Midwest.

Tornadoes swept across at least eight small communities in northern and central Alabama Tuesday, injuring at least two persons and causing heavy damage. Twisters also struck sections in Florida, Indiana and Illinois.

The most severe thunderstorms during the early morning were in the Carolinas, in the southern tip of Florida and the Florida Panhandle. The storms in the Midwest tapered off as the wet belt moved eastward to the Atlantic Coast and skies were mostly clear from the Rockies to the Mississippi Valley.

Story of Life of Olympic Spectator

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This sort of thing could put the Olympics out of business. I mean this new movie about the 1960 Olympics in Rome.

It could shake up Broadway and the ballet, too. Not to mention the movies.

It's called "The Grand Olympics," and it has just hit this country from Italy. Don't ask where it has been since 1960 because nobody seems to know. It could be that all the color film labs over there in Italy have been jammed with work for Cleopatra the last four years.

Anyway, the picture is here, and it is very dangerous. If you've ever been to an Olympics, or know anyone who has, you know that spectators get gouged, cheated, robbed, shoved around, insulted, abused, annoyed, and—if they happen to be in Austria—possibly arrested. But they never see anything.

On the day that a poor spectator spends too much money to sit half a mile from the finish line at the track events, every boxer in the arena across town scores a one-round knockout. The day he hocks his credit cards for a seat at the swimming pool is the one when three world records are broken on the track.

He gets back to an inflation-priced hotel room too late for dinner on both days. The next morning his wife gets sick.

That's the story of an Olympic spectator's life.

Now comes this marvelous movie, in unbelievable color, and for two hours it catches the sight and sound of the Olympics as no spectator since the days of Nero has ever seen. It also adds up to a show that tops a Broadway musical.

After they've seen this thing, who's gonna get 'em to pay 10 bucks to watch the preliminary games in nine-man volleyball, and get gouged by a taxi driver

Whitey Has to Manage Himself

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey, the coach, said to Whitey, the pitcher:

"How do you feel, Whitey?"

"Fine," replied Whitey, the pitcher. "I'm strong. I can go a few more innings."

"Okay," said Whitey, the coach. "We'll see."

When Whitey Ford, the New York Yankees' ace left-handed pitcher, starts mulling to himself out on the mound it's not necessary to summon the men in the white coats.

It's a soliloquy not a dialogue when the Yankees' pitching coach starts checking up on the team's No. 1 pitcher, winner of 200 regular season games and 10 in the World Series since he pulled on the striped New York uniform in 1950.

In one of the game's peculiar arrangements, they're one and the same man. Ford signed a $60,000 contract last November as both pitcher and pitching coach.

So far the 35-year-old Whitey has started three games in the dual role—winning one, losing one and having no decision in the other.

What has been the result? Has it been awkward? Does he feel any greater responsibility? Is he inclined to yank himself more quickly now that the decision is almost solely his?

"I haven't let it bug me yet, but it may before the season is over," the blond Long Islander said today as the Yankees awaited their Stadium meeting with the Chicago White Sox.

"I have always been honest with the managers—Casey Stengel, then Ralph Houk and now Yogi Berra. When I started getting tired or losing my stuff, I told them. So they trusted me more or less. I've been my own boss out there as far as deciding when I should leave the mound or continue."

"Only difference now is that it's official. But I still wouldn't hesitate a minute to pull myself out or even to bench myself if I went into a slump."

Ford said Berra, the new Yankee manager and a longtime battery mate, gave him a lot of freedom in pitching matters and normally would let him call his own shots.

Whitey has been the man on the mountain wants to play. Faubus said, "the people might as well begin to learn it. When all those candidates pile in there, I want the people to know I know what is going on."

Kenneth Hurst, 49, a Clarendon grocer, is the candidate for governor of the National States' Rights Party.

"He (Hurst) admitted that Ben Laney put him in the race," Faubus said, "and everyone knows that Laney is supporting Rockefeller."

Hubbard, 32, said his race would be based on issues, not individuals.

"Already I have stated that the burning issue in Arkansas is human rights," he said. "I will discuss this issue and others during the campaign, but I will not indulge in personal attacks on any individual."

Ridgeway, 43, an ex-convict, has begun his campaign with speeches at Newport. He has proposed reductions in state sales taxes and gasoline taxes, increases in tobacco taxes, and the creation of state-owned liquor stores.

Faubus Gets

names of two men on a slip of paper, saying they would file. He gave the paper in a sealed envelope to newsmen to hold until the ticket closes.

"There's a real flurry of money and money offers," he said. "I've never seen as many prospective candidates who claim they have offers of plenty of funds. The biggest debate in the minds (of these candidates) is whether to take the money for the purpose for which it's offered—that is, to cut on me."

The governor said he was convinced that Rockefeller was putting candidates in the Democratic primary.

"If that's the way the man on the mountain wants to play," Faubus said, "the people might as well begin to learn it. When all those candidates pile in there, I want the people to know I know what is going on."

Kenneth Hurst, 49, a Clarendon grocer, is the candidate for governor of the National States' Rights Party.

"He (Hurst) admitted that Ben Laney put him in the race," Faubus said, "and everyone knows that Laney is supporting Rockefeller."

Hubbard, 32, said his race would be based on issues, not individuals.

"Already I have stated that the burning issue in Arkansas is human rights," he said. "I will discuss this issue and others during the campaign, but I will not indulge in personal attacks on any individual."

Ridgeway, 43, an ex-convict, has begun his campaign with speeches at Newport. He has proposed reductions in state sales taxes and gasoline taxes, increases in tobacco taxes, and the creation of state-owned liquor stores.

State's Share for Defense Very Small

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas gets only a small proportion of the total amount of money spent each year by the federal government for military procurement, defense contracts and supplies.

A House-Senate subcommittee study of military spending indicates that Arkansas got only 0.2 per cent of the $28,107,882,000 spent during the fiscal year ended June 30.

Only $39,114,000 was spent in Arkansas during the period, for procurement, ranking the state fifth from the bottom among the states. The only states in which less was spent were Idaho, Vermont, Nebraska and Montana.

California ranked first with $5,835,670,000 in military spending, or 23.1 per cent of the total.

The total for Arkansas was a drop from the previous year when $84,798,000 was spent in the state for procurement. This is significant in that the procurement total for the 1963 year increased by $300,000,000.

In the area of defense contracts, the state also ranked low.

The study showed that Arkansas institutions received only $689,000, less than 0.05 per cent, of the $6,198,903,000 spent for prime contracts awarded for experimental, development, test and research work. California received 41.4 per cent.

The report also showed that the state had 14,361 active duty military personnel in the state during the 1963 fiscal year and 4,523 civilian employees of the defense department.

The payroll for the military personnel was estimated at $59,970,000 and that of the civilian employees at $28,716,000.

The report indicated there were substantial reductions in the areas of employment from the previous fiscal year when there were 19,252 active duty military personnel and 4,563 civilian employees.

Payrolls at that time were $77,729,000 for the military personnel and $27,064,000 for civilians.

The curtailment of 63 more defense installations announced last week by President Johnson do not make the prospects any better for retaining Fort Chaffee.

Arkansas members of Congress thought it would be difficult for the Johnson Administration to cut back a large number of installations and at the same time reverse the decision on Chaffee.

Smoke Overcomes Culture Class

MONTREAL (AP)—Firemen and police had their hands full Monday night hauling 37 women, most of them clad in leotards, out of a basement physical culture studio after they were overcome by smoke from a fire above.

The rescuers lugged four women through a door of the burning building. When that route was blocked, they passed the rest through a window.

"Most of them were wearing only those black tights," said Police Chief Raymond Dion. "Some of them were heavy."

Would Ease Foreign Investment Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential committee suggested today that taxes be eased on foreign investments in the United States to attract more capital to this country.

A 12-man task force headed by former Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, urged primarily a simplification of estate and income tax provisions so that foreigners could easily compute their tax liability on purchases of stocks and bonds of U.S. companies.

The group was set up last October by the late President John F. Kennedy to determine what could be done to balance the flow of U.S. dollars to foreign countries.

Aluminum, most modern of common metals, was introduced to the public at the 1855 Paris Exposition, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The indication was that Jones might change his mind. He said earlier that he would not run if he got serious opposition.

Republicans Move Into 2 Top Races

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Republicans moved into races for two top state offices Tuesday.

Travis N. Beeson filed for lieutenant governor and Charles Watson became a candidate for secretary of state.

Winthrop Rockefeller, GOP candidate for governor, promised a full slate of Republican candidates for the November general election when he announced his gubernatorial intentions.

Watson, 69, of Arkadelphia, was state director of the Federal Housing Administration from 1955 to 1962. He is in the real estate business.

Beeson, 37, of Camden, owns a retail building supply store. Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon, a Democrat, has filed for re-election. Former state Sen. Roy Riales of Mena also has filed for the office on the Democratic ticket.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, a Democrat, has filed for re-election.

Land Commissioner Sam Jones filed for re-election, but did not pay his $500 filing fee.

Floyd E. Bradberry, 63, of Searcy, filed as a Democrat for land commissioner and paid his

Batesville Has Population Gain

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Preliminary results of a special census conducted in Batesville last week were released today, showing a net gain in population of 894 since the 1960 census.

The census, conducted to gain increased state turnback funds on special taxes, showed Batesville with a current population of 7,101, compared to 6,207 in 1960.

City officials said the increase was attributed largely to annexations of fringe areas.

Aluminum, most modern of common metals, was introduced to the public at the 1855 Paris Exposition, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The indication was that Jones might change his mind. He said earlier that he would not run if he got serious opposition.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the exhibits that did not open at the New York World's Fair last week was "Reaching For the Stars," a production showing how two manned crafts will rendezvous in space.
There are tow good reasons. The building hasn't been completed; the exhibit is still being created in Hollywood.
The man who is putting it together is eminently qualified: Frank Capra. One of the movies' great directors, he is also a graduate of the California Institute of Technology, class of '21.
"This job is a challenge—and a helluva lot of work," said the Sicily - bor director during a brief respite. "The show will only run 17 or 18 minutes, but it will take me about five months to put it together."
The tardiness of the opening is no fault of his.
"Like a lot of things at the fair, it was started too late," said Capra. "The Martin Marietta Corp. people who are staging the show realized they were too far behind in January. That is when they yelled 'Help! They seemed to think I could help them.'"
Naturally, Capra has not only made film classics like "Lost Horizon" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," he has also had success in interpreting science to his fellow man.
"I started about 12 years ago," he said. "I was on the board of Caltech and the school asked me to help recruit students. So I made a film that pointed out the opportunities that could be had in scientific careers."
He returned to film making, then he was presented with another challenge. Bell Telephone wanted him to make some television specials on scientific subjects.
"I took five years to make four of them," Capra remarked. "I'm not even sure I made back my own expenses. But it was a challenge, and I like to tackle challenging things."

Candidates Must Pick Position

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled Tuesday that candidates for alderman at Strong must designate the position they seek and cannot change positions.
Madelyn Rucks, secretary of the Union County Democratic Central Committee, requested the ruling.
"Strong elects two aldermen in each of its three wards, Bennett said."

MOP Ready to Drop Firemen

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two railroads that operate in Arkansas said Tuesday they would drop 348 firemen effective May 7.
The Missouri Pacific Railroad, which operates in 47 Arkansas counties, said it would cut 200. The St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad, operating in 14 Arkansas counties, said it would drop 148.

THE STORY: Malcolm renews his acquaintance with Jenny Davis and Jenny introduces him to her mother, Coralee, a divorcee. Coralee says she learns a great deal from her Spanish maid.

XV
"She doesn't know where Madrid is," Jenny said, and her small jaw hardened as she stared at her mother. "She doesn't know where Gibraltar is, either. I'm going to ask her what she talks to you about."
Coralee smiled helplessly at Malcolm. "What I'm wondering is, would you like to come to a small party I'm giving next week? It will be a grab-bag crowd, but you might find it amusing. Where are you staying?"
"At the ensione Royale."
"I'll leave a note there with the time and date."
"Thanks for the drink," Jenny said.
"Oh, dear, my little beggar's been up to her usual tricks, I gather."
"Not at all," Malcolm said. "I owed her a drink, you see."
"Oh, I'm sure you did," Coralee said and smiled indulgently at him. "Now come along, Jenny."
They waved a good bye to him and started down the street, but after they had gone about 20 yards, Jenny stopped abruptly, said something to her mother, and ran back to Malcolm.
"Do you like her?" she asked him in a quick little voice. "My mother, I mean."
"I know one thing," Malcolm said. "You don't."
She sighed helplessly. "It's not that. I like her. But I hate it when she makes me feel sorry for her."
"Jenny, I don't think it matters."
She grinned and ran off down the street to join her mother. The two young Germans had been watching Malcolm, and now they exchanged glances, stood with almost military precision, and walked across the terrace to his table.
They were strikingly tall and handsome, strong and golden in the sunlight.
"Please," one of the Germans said by way of apology and placed a small white business card on the table. "It is not our intention to disturb you now."
Malcolm looked at the card. Engraved on one side were two names: Karl Webber and Willie Maganer. In ink below them was the name of a hotel in Torremolinos, the Pez Espada. He turned the card over. On the back was a message written in homes by the viewers as we choose—or ignore—programs.

Castro Eases Ban on U.S. Jazz, Plays

By DANIEL HARKER
HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government has eased its ban on American jazz, movies and plays—and the Cubans are going wild about them.

The other night, 4,000 university students yelled, whistled and clapped in a public square while the "Free Jazz Group" played such oldies as "Caravan" and "Something Easy."
It was the first time since the end of 1961 that such a thing has been permitted in this Communist country where just humming an American tune was once considered antirevolutionary.

You can even buy American books now, but people are afraid it won't last.
"I bought every book I could," said one young man coming out of a book store. "This may be my last chance."

There seem to be two main reasons for the liberalization:
—People were openly grumbling about the drab lives they were leading and the lack of good entertainment. Even the controlled press complained.
—Cuba now has more dollars to spend because the world price of sugar has risen and Cuba is getting money from such countries as Japan and Spain.

The government is giving private showing of new American films for people who can pass a strict screening. Viewers have to get permission from just about everyone including the trade union to which they belong.

Cuban television has started to show some of the same old movies that U.S. viewers see late at night.

DOROTHY DIX

WFE WALKS IN SLEEP; HUSBAND SEEKS ADVICE BY DR. JOYCE BROTHERS
Dear Dr. Joy: My wife is a sleep walker. I've had to wake her up two or three times when she was walking through our garden on a warm night. I talked to her gently, and she came back into the house readily. But she might do this when I'm out of town on business, and I'm afraid for her safety.
—P.J.B.

Dear P.J.B.: It may surprise you to know that there are some four million sleep walkers in this country today.
It is not true that they walk with their arms extended and eyes closed. They are relaxed, their movements deliberate, and they know their way around. Though their eyes are open, they don't always take in things.
The sleep walker can hear, but normally does not speak. Usually, the sleep walker isn't violent. More often than not, he will take a short stroll, and then return to bed. A quiet suggestion he get back under the covers is often followed.

Find The Cause
Psychologists are generally agreed the solution to sleep walking lies in ferreting out and relieving deep-seated emotional situations. As a result, these are forced deep into our unconscious. Then, during sleep our unconscious personality assumes control, and we act out the impulses we controlled earlier.
In presentations before the Psychoanalytic Association it was found that experience seems to show that the sleep walker will not do anything contrary to his own moral code. And since most people have such deep inhibitions against immoral acts or violence, they would awaken before such an act were committed.

There are several steps you should know to protect the occasional night stroller. First, wake the sleeper gently. Then, make sure he knows where he is, and explain simply that he's been sleep walking. Or, if the walker is in a dangerous position, wait until he moves out of it, or remove the danger if possible, then wake him.
If one of your children sleep walks, follow the same procedure, but assure him that all is well, and that his stroll is nothing to worry about. Then, stay with him until he is asleep in bed again. If the situation persists, consult your family physician. Psychoanalysis or psychotherapy may be needed to determine and resolve the emotional conflict that produces sleep walking.

Many Strange Cases
Case histories show that some extraordinary events can take place during sleep walking. Complex mathematical problems have been solved by persons "out of this world," who normally have trouble balancing their checkbooks. Some psychiatrists believe this is the power of the unconscious mind at work, which can rarely be tapped by the conscious when we are awake.

Sometimes the power of the unconscious comes into action, and acts out an overpowering drive. One case not long ago made headlines across the nation when a pretty blonde housewife went night - roaming in the nude in a fashionable suburb. In the moonlight, she climbed a tree, and was happily plucking leaves from its branches when her husband and some fascinated townsmen found her. After the fire department set up a net, her husband climbed up the tree, and gently tapped her on the shoulder. She woke, gasped, and tumbled into the net. Later, she said she was dreaming she was in a wonderful garden she'd always wished she had, and was picking flowers.

So, a general caution to anyone dealing with a sleep walking member of the family: Be sure he or she wouldn't come to harm when you wake them up. Then, do it gently, and explain simply he or she has been sleep walking.

No Snow, So Skiers Play Lots of Tennis

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — What does a skier do in summer, when there's no snow?
On a drizzly spring day in New York, Penny Pitou answered: "Well, two who live in Laconia, N.H., play a lot of tennis."
The two are blond Penny, who won two silver medals in the 1960 Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif., and her dark-haired Austrian husband Egon Zimmermann.
In winter they operate two ski schools — Gunstock at Laconia and Blue Hills at Milton, Mass. This requires a certain amount of off-season planning.
"Egon is a salesman in summer," Penny said, "and I'm a housewife and mother — two babies a boy and a St. Bernard."
The Zimmermanns were in New York to help get a proposed professional ski league — for men only — off the ground. Egon expects to be one of the competitors.
The league's backers expect to organize 10 three-man teams at various ski areas throughout the United States and they hope to line up a television contract "so that for the first time skiers will be able to make a living from their efforts."
The summer routine for an Alpine skier who expects to be in serious competition the next winter is somewhat more strenuous, Penny explained. Still it sounds like a vacation to city-bound folks.
"You do a lot of hiking to stay in condition," she said. "Trout fishing is good, too, when you the program is 10 cents for children, 15c for students and 25 cents for adults."
Listed in Who's Who
Mrs. E. L. Scoggins, a teacher in Childress High School of Nashville, is listed in Who's Who in American Education for the year 1964-65. She received her B. S. degree from AM&N College and Master of vocational guidance and personnel administration from Columbia University in New York City.
The Anna P. Strong Club will meet Friday, May 1, at 7:30 in the home of Neva Carmichael instead of Mrs. Butler as previously announced.
All members are urged to be present.

Finley's Porch Helps Athletics Defeat Detroit

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Finley 1, The American League 0

The score won't show in today's baseball standings, but the entry's probably been made in the ledgers of Charles O. Finley, the daring Kansas City owner who's been trucked out more often than Dave Nicholson.

Finley went one - up on the American League following the A's 5-1 victory over Detroit Tuesday night.

Ed Charles provided the edge when he christened Finley's much - derided "Half Pennant Porch," lofting a fly in the first inning that zeroed in on the newly erected bleacher section at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium.

It was the first homer hit into the sector in five games, and was duly noted with the blare of horns and an array of flashing green and gold lights.

Finley originally erected a porch that brought the right-field foul line to within 256 feet of home plate — the same distance as at Yankee Stadium — and said the A's would be able to capitalize on it and succeed just as the Yankees had with their short right-field line.

The American League said Finley should tear it down, citing the "Pennant Porch" as a violation of baseball rules. So Finley proceeded to remodel his bleacher section into a half porch, which brought the right-field line in from 338 feet to the legal 325 limit. Then he waited for the A's to start hitting homers.

Elsewhere, Dick Stuart's grand-slam homer in the 11th inning gave Boston a 6-4 victory over Baltimore. Jimmie Hall singled with the bases loaded in the 10th as Minnesota outlasted Cleveland 9-8 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Washington 2-1 behind the relief pitching of Don Lee and Dean Chance.

The Chicago - New York Yankees game was rained out.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston and Ken (No-Hit) Johnson 3-1. Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 4-2. Milwaukee walloped Pittsburgh 9-5 and St. Louis shut out the New York Mets 8-0. The San Francisco - Chicago Cubs game was rained out.

Charles not only christened Finley's porch but also doubled home a run in the third and singled across a run in the fifth as the A's struck for three runs and drove Frank Lary from the mound.

Diego Segui, who walked four batters in the first two innings, settled down and stopped the Tigers on five hits for his first victory.

Robin Roberts had a four-hit shutout going for the Orioles until the Red Sox tied it in the ninth on a run-producing single by Carl Yastrzemski and Stuart's double. Then, after Baltimore scored two runs, in the 10th, reliever Stu Miller suddenly lost his control.

American Girls Defeat Brazil

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The U.S. women's basketball team, led by Rita Horky of Nashville, came from behind to defeat Brazil 51-43 Tuesday night in the World Tournament.

The victory was the American girls' second in three games of the seven-nation championship round robin. Bulgaria routed Peru 79-44 in another third-round game.

$2 Bet Pays a Woman $132,232

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—One lucky bettor, tentatively identified as a woman, won $132,232.80 for $2 at Roosevelt Raceway Tuesday night — more money than the $100,000 President Johnson makes in a year.

The huge payoff came on the twin double, in which a bettor must couple four winners, and set a world record for that form of wagering.

The previous high TD payoff was the $84,692.20 won at Gulfstream Park in Florida, just a week ago, by Mrs. Helen McGrady, a housewife of West Hollywood, Fla.

Nick Grande, vice president at Roosevelt, a harness racing track, made the tentative identification of the winner as a woman.

"I talked to the ticket seller," Grande said. "They are positive the winner was a woman on the third floor of the grandstand. We won't know for certain until the ticket is presented for payment and it was not tonight."

It was near midnight when Historic Value, driven by George Sholly, won the ninth and last race at $24 for $2 and completed the record payoff on the 7-5-1-2 combination. Rifle Ball, who finished second, also would have brought the same payoff to holders of the 7-5-1-4 combo.

An accident helped set up the record payoff. Chester Direct, on top at the head of the stretch, momentarily went off stride. He swerved, causing both Fedor Herbert and Denison to fall and throw their drivers, Bud Gilmour and John Chapman, to the track.

Historic Value, seemingly out of contention, was steered wide out of trouble and paced on to victory.

Chapman suffered a broken right shoulder and Gilmour a twisted shoulder. Oddly, they both won previous races in the TD.

Gilmour won the sixth race with Sonnie Jim Abbe at $52.60 to start the TD. Tony Abbatiello took the seventh with Shady Maid at $22.90, then Chapman won the eighth with Meadow Hart at $11.70.

Day of Peril for Golfers at Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — This is a day of peril for golfers with ambitions of winning the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

It's a double round Wednesday—a day in which the favorites must take care lest an eager underdog jumps and grabs them.

Winning one 18-hole match in a day is rough enough, but to survive a pair requires sharp play and a little luck.

Billy Joe Patton, the defending champion from Morganton, N.C., who is going after North and South title No. 4 and his third in a row, opened the 18-match third round against Moss Beecroft of Newport News, Va.

The winner faced an afternoon date with the survivor of a match between Ed Wholey of North Providence, R.I., and Ed Kirkland of Orlando, Fla.

Bob Gardner, Walker Cup player from Essex Fells, N.J., was paired with Dillard Traynam, from Greenville, S.C., with the winner meeting either two-time champion Frank Strafaci of Miami, Fla., or southpaw Alfred Sams of Macon, Ga.

In the second quarter of the draw, 53-year-old Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., played Truman Connell of Jupiter, Fla. The winner's opponent will be either John Greer of Bristol, Va., or David Boyd of Atlanta.

Person supplied a highlight of the second round Tuesday when he knocked off Charlie Smith, Walker Cup player from Gastonia, N.C., 20 years his junior, 1 up.

Today's action will leave eight men for the quarter-finals Thursday.

A fine museum of Caddo Indian relics is at Hot Springs.

Nell Warren of Hope won the Singles Division of the Annual Women's Bowling Tournament with 634 pins.

Jimmie Nicholas of Prescott won the All Events Scratch position at the Emmet Bowling Assn. Annual WIBC Spring Tournament with 1400 actual pins for the 9 game set.

Johnson Hits Home Yet He Hasn't Scored

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ken Johnson, who lost a no-hitter 1-0 in his last start, now has crossed home plate but he still hasn't scored.

There was Johnson perched on third base in the third inning of what was to become a 3-1 loss to Los Angeles Tuesday night. He was trailing 1-0 and thinking how nice it would be if the Houston Colts would score a run for him. It had been 13 innings and one no-hitter down the drain since he'd seen some batting support.

Al Spangler lifted a fly ball and Johnson anxiously tagged up. It looked like the hard-luck hurler was finally going to get a run and, in addition he was going to score it himself.

But suddenly the Los Angeles Dodgers were all around umpire Vinnie Smith and he was nodding his head. The seldom-seen appeal play had worked. Johnson, in his anxiety to get a run, had left third base too soon and was doubled up.

So, the Colt pitcher still trailed 1-0. Dodger starter Joe Moeller protected the slim margin built on Maury Wills' first-inning single and Willie Davis' triple into the seventh when the Colts finally scored.

Jerry Grote's triple and a squeeze bunt broke the runless spell which had stretched 17 innings for Johnson. But the shock of a run on the scoreboard must have proved too much.

Dick Tracewski led off the Dodger eighth with a triple and after injured Tommy Davis batted for Moeller and fled out, Wills delivered the go-ahead run with a double. Wally Moon's single made it 3-1 and knocked out Johnson, who now knows what it's like to get a run and lose.

In other National League games Tuesday night, St. Louis blanked New York 8-0, Philadelphia topped Cincinnati 4-2 and Milwaukee outlasted Pittsburgh 9-5. San Francisco and Chicago were rained out.

In the American League, Dick Stuart's grand-slam homer gave Boston a 6-4 victory in 11 innings over Baltimore, Minnesota outslugged Cleveland 9-8 in 10 innings, Kansas City downed Detroit 5-1 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Washington 2-1. The Chicago-New York Yankees game was rained out.

Mueller who went seven innings, turned in the third straight strong performance for the Dodgers pitching staff which now has allowed just one run in the last 27 innings. Bob Miller blanked the Colts in the last two frames.

It was the fifth victory in 14 starts for the defending world champions who still trail the Phillies by five games in the NL race.

Philadelphia got a 4-for-5 performance by rookie sensation Richie Allen to beat the Reds. Allen clubbed a homer, triple and two singles as Art Mahaffey won his first game.

Hill Rise in 8th Victory Straight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — If there ever was any doubt in jockey Willie Shoemaker mind about his decision to switch from Northern Dancer to Hill Rise in the Kentucky Derby, it's gone.

Hill Rise, with The Shoe aboard for only the second time, won his eighth straight race Tuesday by overpowering six others in the $16,050 Derby Trial — the last prep for the Run for the Roses.

"He's 50 per cent better horse than when he was at Keeneland," Shoemaker said. "I believe this race is just what he needed to get him ready for Saturday."

Despite the powerful performance by the El Peco Ranch colt in the one-mile Trial, at least 13 horses, and possibly as many as 16, will go to the post Saturday. If 13 start, the Derby will offer a purse of $144,500, with $93,925 going to the winner.

The 1½ mile classic will be televised by CBS from 4:15 p.m. to 4:45 p.m., EST. Post time for the Derby is 4:30 p.m.

Hill Rise showed all the strength in the Trial that he displayed earlier in ruling the West, and his performance quickly made Shoemaker forget the colt's unimpressive victory in the Forerunner at Keeneland two weeks ago.

"I guess I'll have to run him back in the Derby," quipped trainer Bill Finnegan. The smiling Finnegan could do little more than grumble after Hill Rise won the Forerunner.

"There was just nothing in there to push him," Finnegan said. "He just loafed after he got the lead. If he keeps that up we may never know how good he is."

Hill Rise was clocked for the mile in the fine time of 1:35 1-5 on an off track that was listed as good. This was the colt's first race on anything but a fast track and he handled the footing with ease.

The other 12 horses considered definite starters include Roman Brother, the little Florida bred colt who finished second to Hill Rise in the Trial, and Mr. Moonlight, who finished fourth but was placed third through a disqualification.

Others considered definite starters are Quadrangle, Northern Dancer, Ishkoodah, Mr. Brick, Dandy K., Royal Shuck,

Union Man Gets 5-Year Sentence

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Henry F. Bell, vice president of the International Longshoreman's Association, was sentenced today to five years in prison and fined $5,000 on a jury-tampering charge.

U.S. Southern, sought today to J.R., who handed out the maximum penalty, overruled a motion for a new trial. Defense attorneys said they plan to appeal.

Bell was convicted April 8 of offering $30,000 to bribe two jurors in the 1962 conspiracy trial of James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president.

He was the sixth person, including Hoffa, to be convicted of attempted jury tampering in that trial, which ended in failure of the jury to reach a verdict. That case is still pending.

Cross Burning in Lincoln County

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee reported an apparent cross burning and Ku Klux Klan activity in Lincoln County over the weekend. The Star City Sheriff's Office said it knew nothing of the incident.

Charred sticks were found in front of the old Macedonia (Negro) Baptist Church near here Sunday morning and a sign glued to the door read "The Klansmen Were Here," said William Hansen of Pine Bluff, field secretary for SNCC.

Bruce Jordan, another SNCC field secretary, said printed signs also were found on mailboxes of two Negro organizers in a voter registration drive and on a gasoline pump at a Negro store.

Prince Davelle, Wil Rad, Extra Swell and The Scoundrel.

Hill Rise is expected to go to the post for the classic Saturday as the 6-5 favorite. Second choice will be the Canadian hopeful, Northern Dancer whose probable odds are 3-1.
